

Palestinian Women, Peace and Security – A Call for International Responsibility

- | | |
|---|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Palestinian women face compounded impacts as a result of the occupation, its policies and practices, and settler violence. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Protecting women and girls is not optional; it is a binding obligation under international law and United Nations resolutions. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Persistent violations undermine women's safety, dignity, and fundamental human rights. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Preventing violence against women requires addressing the root causes of conflict and instability. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Gender-responsive crisis response is essential to ensure protection, access to services, and dignity for women and girls. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Palestinian women continue to lead community resilience, humanitarian response, and local peace efforts. |

Palestinian Women, Peace and Security – A Call for International Responsibility

- | | |
|--|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Women's meaningful participation is essential to achieving inclusive and sustainable peace. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The Third National Action Plan for UNSCR 1325 places women at the center of protection, recovery, and reconstruction. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Investing in women's economic empowerment strengthens resilience and social stability in times of crisis. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Integrating women into relief, recovery, and reconstruction processes is essential for sustainable development. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The ECOSOC resolution on the situation of Palestinian women reaffirms the responsibility of the international community to ensure protection for Palestinian women, support their rights, and strengthen safeguards for their protection. | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Advancing the Women, Peace and Security agenda in Palestine requires concrete international action, accountability, and sustained support |